If you want to know what truly ails the United States, it's a moral crisis. If you watch the News ask yourself, what would have prevented such and such a problem? In the vast majority of cases, there is a moral crisis at the root.

The modern world seed to function pretty good until Nixon, I think. that was an even which was a symptom of the underlying sickness of the society. Or even going back to the JFK assassination. The world realized that even if you are young, handsome, rich and powerful, you can wind up with a bullet in the head from the Mafia who brag about it.

Noone listens to the church anymore. that has its roots in the Protestant deformation. One religion is as good as any other is the cry. And the catholic Priests certainly did not help the cause. Then came street drugs, free sex and satanic music in the 1960s and 70s.

With the new pope, America has a chance to truly be great again- not greedy. Having morals and a moral guide viz Pope Leo XIV, then America can get back on top again.

Philosophers study Ethics, which is good, but ethics is voluntary. Before Trump got elected the first time, I thought he was a moral fellow according to news reports about him. He was a real winner. Now we know what he is really like. He's part of the problem; not the solution. America, God is giving you a second chance. Make America great Again but living and choosing morality. The capital sins are pride, lust, anger, greed, gluttony, envy, sloth. Don't forget to watch the news and watch. The solution to most of your problems are at the tip of your finger and tongue.
